

As a top representative of your school, you will become a role model to many. Little girls dressed in cheerleading uniforms and mocking you through the fence at games will always have their eyes on you. People in the community will recognize you from your many appearances in town and at the games. In addition, teachers, staff, coaches, and students from your school will always notice what you do because you are a cheerleader. Therefore, no matter where you are, you should always present yourself in a classy and professional manner because you never know who may be watching.
